

SM

Contributors will include:

Fred Armstrong
David Crombie
Ken Greenberg
Brian Hoyle (U.K.)
Bruce Kidd
Josef Konvitz (U.S.)
Jim Lemon
Roy Merrens

TORONTO'S CHANGING WATERFRONT

Perspectives from the Past

A Symposium Sponsored by the Toronto
Harbour Commissioners to be held at:

TORONTO HARBOUR COMMISSION
ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDING

60 Harbour Street
Toronto, Ontario
M5J 1B7
(416) 863-2073

3 - 4 November 1989

Toronto Harbour in May 1914, just prior to its transformation.

Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 15/1/1.

The development and management of Toronto's waterfront are matters of critical importance to the city. Present circumstances have been shaped by forces more than a century old, but there is little understanding of the significance or the continued impact of these historical contexts. Without investigations into these themes, an informed discussion about the problems facing Toronto, and Canadian waterfronts in general, is difficult if not impossible.

In an attempt to encourage such research and to promote an awareness of the forces shaping the waterfront, a symposium is being held to serve as a forum for papers and panel discussions. Aspects of Toronto's waterfront to be considered include:

- changes to the shoreline
- planning and development
- analysis of agencies influencing development
- preservation of the built environment
- industry and industrial landscapes
- shipping and trade
- the role of housing and recreation

It is the intention to publish a volume of selected papers from the proceedings.

View looking west at the York Street boat houses from the roof of the Toronto Harbour Commission building, 25 April 1918. Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 111/2840.

The same view in 1930, showing the graded fill and buildings that have replaced the waters of Toronto Bay. Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 111/9417.

TORONTO'S CHANGING WATERFRONT

Perspectives
from the Past

Registration Form

NAME: _____

TITLE: _____

AFFILIATION: _____

ADDRESS: _____

Telephone Numbers

OFFICE: _____

HOME: _____

REGULAR: $30

STUDENT: $10

Cheques should be made payable to: the Toronto Harbour Commissioners.

Payment cannot be refunded after 1 October 1989.

Those planning to attend should register early due to limited space.

for further information:

Toronto Harbour Commission Archives
60 Harbour Street
Toronto, Ontario
M5J 1B7
(416) 863-2073

Contributors will include:

Fred Armstrong
David Crombie
Ken Greenberg
Brian Hoyle (U.K.)
Bruce Kidd
Josef Konvitz (U.S.)
Jim Lemon
Roy Merrens

TORONTO'S CHANGING WATERFRONT

Perspectives
from the Past

A Symposium Sponsored by the Toronto
Harbour Commissioners to be held at:

TORONTO HARBOUR COMMISSION
ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDING

60 Harbour Street
Toronto, Ontario
M5J 1B7
(416) 863-2073

3 - 4 November 1989

Toronto Harbour in May 1914, just prior to its transformation.

Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 15/1/1.

The development and management of Toronto's waterfront are matters of critical importance to the city. Present circumstances have been shaped by forces more than a century old, but there is little understanding of the significance or the continued impact of these historical contexts. Without investigations into these themes, an informed discussion about the problems facing Toronto, and Canadian waterfronts in general, is difficult if not impossible.

In an attempt to encourage such research and to promote an awareness of the forces shaping the waterfront, a symposium is being held to serve as a forum for papers and panel discussions. Aspects of Toronto's waterfront to be considered include:

- changes to the shoreline
- planning and development
- analysis of agencies influencing development
- preservation of the built environment
- industry and industrial landscapes
- shipping and trade
- the role of housing and recreation

It is the intention to publish a volume of selected papers from the proceedings.

View looking west at the York Street boat houses from the roof of the Toronto Harbour Commission building, 25 April 1918. Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 111/2840.

The same view in 1930, showing the graded fill and buildings that have replaced the waters of Toronto Bay. Toronto Harbour Commission Archives, PC 111/9417.

TORONTO'S CHANGING WATERFRONT

Perspectives
from the Past

Registration Form

NAME: _____

TITLE: _____

AFFILIATION: _____

ADDRESS: _____

Telephone Numbers

OFFICE: _____

HOME: _____

REGULAR: $30

STUDENT: $10

Cheques should be made payable to: the Toronto Harbour Commissioners.

Payment cannot be refunded after 1 October 1989.

Those planning to attend should register early due to limited space.

for further information:

Toronto Harbour Commission Archives
60 Harbour Street
Toronto, Ontario
M5J 1B7
(416) 863-2073